

First Information

Research Seminar on Entrepreneurship and Innovation

Winter Term 2009/2010

Perceptions & Heuristics in Individual and Strategic Decision Making

The seminar on entrepreneurship and innovation in the winter term 2009/ 2010 will deal with perceptions and heuristics in individual and strategic decision making. It will take place as a joint retreat outside of Berlin from February, 4th to February, 7th, 2010. The seminar is open for up to 20 participants.

Interested students should send an email to Sabrina Böwe (boewe@wiwi.hu-berlin.de) to apply for the seminar until October, 21st, 2009. This email should include the filled out registration form you find at the institute's homepage.

On October, 22nd, 2009, we will inform the applicants if they are permitted to participate in the seminar or which order of priority they are given on the waiting list.

On October 27th, 2009 from 10.00 to 11:30 am in room 21 A (Spandauer Str. 1) all seminar topics will be allocated. This event is for accepted students only and for those that are told to be on the waiting list. Please, bring the money for accommodation (see below) with you!

The length of your seminar paper should not exceed 15 pages. The paper has to be submitted until January 21st, 2009 (12:00 noon).

You are expected to hold a presentation during the seminar and to attend all sessions and presentations. Accommodation will cost around 35 € per night, half board, plus travelling and leisure time expenses. Exact costs depend on the number of participants and will be communicated as soon as possible.